They Are Ever Near

The raw winds swirl and touch your soul
The snow falls within brisk air,
You know there is a presence now, cause
They are ever near.

When you think you're all alone
And no one seems to care,
There is a breath upon your cheek,
They are ever near.

A faint knock comes upon your door
You check and no one's there,
You think that you're in solitude, but
They are ever near.

When the days seem lonely and empty
And it appears you have nothing to share,
Just bow your head and think awhile,
They are ever near.

The memories will never leave you,
The laughter and the cheer,
It may seem gone forever,
But they are ever near

It may be just a sound
Or single running tear,
But there is always a reminder,
They are ever near.

So, when you think all is over
And life is too much to bear,
Always know they are with you,
they are Ever near!!
